

Flower

1. Bracteates, or ebracteate,
2. Bracteolate, or ebracteolate,
3. pedicellate, or sessile,
4. complete, or incomplete,
5. bisexual, or unisexual (pistillate, or staminate) or polygamous,
6. regular or irregular,
7. actinomorphic or zygomorphic
8. no. of merous, shape, size,
9. colour of the flower,
10. cyclic, or spirocyclic, acyclic,
11. hypogynous, or perigynous or epigynous.

Calyx.

1. No. of sepals (in figures)
2. chorisepalous (chori-apart); or gamosepalous (gamo-fused),
3. when chorisepalous, shape of sepals, when gamosepalous (synsepalous) the calyx tubular, or bilabiate, shape, size,
4. aestivation - valvate, or twisted (convolute, or contorted), imbricate, or quincunial,
5. colour. sepaloïd, or petaloïd (other than green)
6. persistence - deciduous, or caduceous, or persistent or accrescent
7. inferior (in hypogynous or perigynous) or superior, (in epigynous)

Petal (Corolla) C

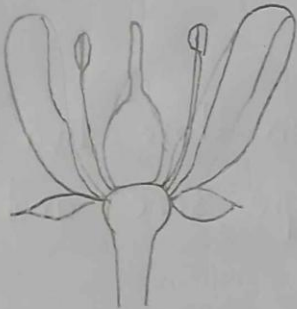

Carpel (Gynaecium) G

Stamen (Androecium) A

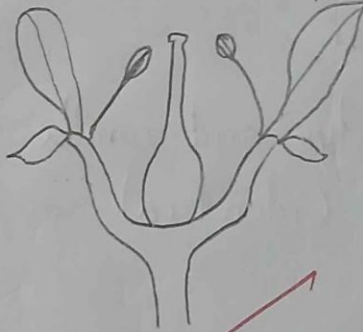

Sepal (Calyx) K

Thalamus

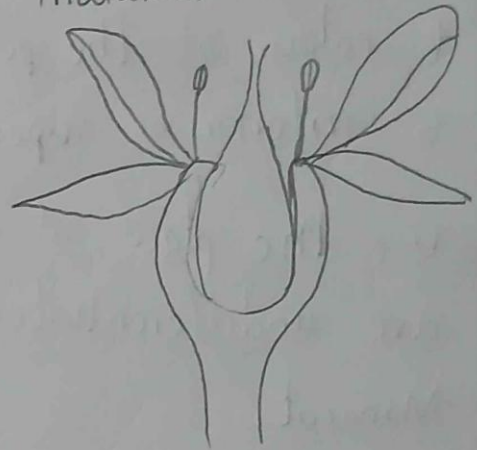

Parts of a flower

Hypogyny.

Perigyny

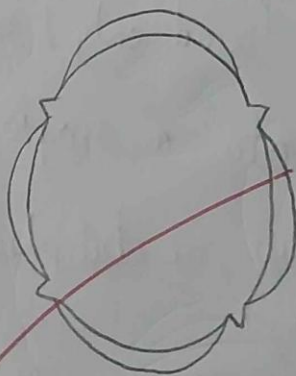

Epigyny

Position of floral leaves on the thalamus, Calyx and Corolla

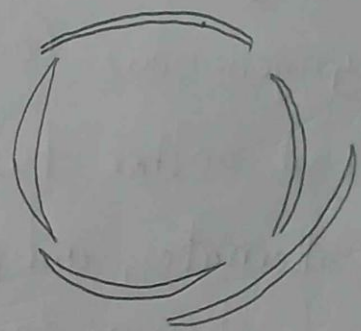

1. Calyx

OPEN

VALVATE

IMBRICATE

CONVOLUTE

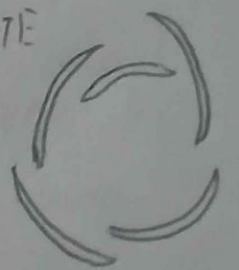

CONTORTED

QUINCUNCIAL

IMBRICATE DECCURVE

IMBRICATE ACCURVE

6 days